Comparison of restitued parameters using equivalent method compared to the Snell Descartes method as reference in function of the distance between the source and the reciever